FOREWORD

We've been constantly reminded by Nobel Laureate Prof. Muhammad Yunus that the time for taking actions to counter the ongoing process of deterioration brought about by climate change will be much shorter than a century. Then after, the planet will enter into the red zone, where the ongoing process of worsening will become irreversible. All actions to reverse the process will have no impact. Within the little time we have only extraordinary bold actions initiated immediately can save humans and other life forms from this upcoming massive disaster. The only impact of these thoughtful actions can push forward the red zone and give us time to re-organize the world for our dignified survival.

Towards this, Prof. Yunus proposed the concept of Social Business; a business with a "Social Vision" at its core. The primary focus of a social business is to address a social need and solve human problems by creating a world of three zeros- zero net carbon emission, zero wealth concentration for ending poverty, and zero unemployment by unleashing entrepreneurship in all.

The Yunus Centre, Bangladesh has been organizing Social Business Day every year since 2009. It is the world's largest gathering of the social business community. It brings together leading experts and representatives from academia, business, civil society and government, to share ideas and experiences among innovators, change leaders and aspiring social business entrepreneurs. It provides a platform to bring all stakeholders to engage in dialogue, exchange ideas and gain energy from one another by inspiring each other. Themed "War, Peace and Economics: Future of Human Beings" the 13th Social Business Day was jointly organised by Yunus Centre, Bangladesh and Al-Bukhary International University (AIU) at Langkawi, Malaysia from July 27-28, 2023.

This family gathering in person was held after physical break up of 3 years due to COVID 19. It had brought together nearly 600 delegates hailing from 30 countries of the world. The conference brought together numerous inspiring speakers from all around the world, such as Nobel Peace Laureate Professor Muhammad Yunus; former Prime Minister of Malaysia, Dr. Mahathir Bin Mohamad; Minister of Environment, Federative Republic of Brazil, The Honorable Marina Silva; President of International Olympic Committee, Mr. Thomas Bach; UN Habitat

Chief, Maimunah Mohd Sharif and many other leaders of the social business movement.

The “13th Social Business Day, 2023, Country Forum of Nepal” was part of the approach that platformed the accumulated experiences of social business leaders and entrepreneurs from Nepal to give shape to ensure actions for bringing new civilization among its rural societies. To this concept the Country Forum of Nepal could come out well as Eight point Action Plan to be implemented in next two years by the stakeholders in Nepal.

The current civilization, which focuses on profit maximization of entrepreneurs without caring social benefits and well-being, has led to global warming, wealth concentration as well as mass unemployment paving path to ultimate extinction of human being. The new civilization has to focus on creating an economy based primarily on zero poverty, zero unemployment and zero carbon emission as part of the solution to the problems confronting the cases generated. To this effect, the young generation needs to be facilitated to bring leadership capacity through proper education and engaging in 3 Zero Clubs that shape them to be future leaders to lead new civilization.

I would like to thank everyone who worked to make this event, ‘Nepal Country Forum’ a success. My heartiest thanks goes to Nobel Laureate Prof. Muhammad Yunus, for inspiring and guiding the Nepali delegates through his kind presence during the preceding of the Nepal Forum and Ms. Lamiya Morshed, Executive Director and her team of Yunus Centre, Bangladesh for their invaluable support and technical assistance. I would also like to thank the distinguished participants, members of Organizing Committee of the Country Forum of Nepal and the moderators and the speakers for their contributions in making this Forum a grand success. Last but not the Least, I would like to thank Director of CSD Mr. Satish Shrestha for his hard work to bring out this report in this form.

Mr. Sanjay Mandal, Chief Executive Officer of JBLBS presented his thoughts on “Role of Microfinance Organizations in Building New Civilization” by firstly relating the 3Zero concept of zero poverty, zero unemployment and zero carbon emission which should be the very core mission of every Microfinance organization.

With respect to the current economy in Nepal and challenges being faced he adduced burgeoning disparity between the rich and the poor in the economy coupled with over exploitation of natural resources as the main threat to the sustainability of the economy. He added high rate of youth unemployment in the economy in sync with overseas blue collar job aspiration proliferating amongst the current Nepalese youth as surprising challenge seen in the country. He also attributed youth grappled in drugs and gadgets as well as misuse of internet technology leading to social disorientation as rising threat in Nepal’s society. He also confessed on neglecting hardcore poor within the purview of microfinance services as one of the important challenges to overcome.

After bringing up the challenges, he went on to prescribe counter measures that included - to conduct microfinance as social business; promote 3 Zero clubs amongst the school passed children of microfinance clients; improving living condition of poor microfinance clients by offering complete housing solution; building self-help eco village; support hard core poor and differently abled people in the community; support educational program of school going children from ultra-poor family by operating free tuition center in the rural community; promote digitalization in the rural economy and disseminating social wellbeing messages in every center meetings.

Mr. Shankar Man Shrestha, Speaking from the chair during closing session

Mr. Shankar Man Shrestha, who chaired the Nepal Forum appealed each sector leader to promote the concept of social business from their own professional perspectives and also said the immediate task of participants should be to encourage to educate the concerned persons back home to join the movement. He also requested the participants to act as a harbinger to promote Social Business concept in various forums and also bring out publications on their respective activities to generate positive impact in the community. He also denounced the mentality of majority of MFIs in the country that despite strenuous latitude prevailing in the country, many MFIs have not learned from it, and still goes for profit maximization spree and mentally evading from its social pursuit. He urged all MFIs board officials present to have their organization focus on creating zero unemployment through promoting entrepreneurship among their members and make their business a Social Business. He also recognize the presence of Ms. Gandaki Thapa Adhikari, board member - CYC who is a chief of Rural Municipality and Mr. Hari Bahadur Rajbanshi who was the then member of the Constituent Assembly of Nepal. He urged to incite more and more participants from the local government bodies.

He further shared his thoughts on why we need to reduce food wastage, reduce water uses and recycle and re-use of old household items. He also shared his thoughts on new topic of AI (Artificial Intelligence) which Prof. Yunus in his speech in the morning had talked about. He forenamed humans as the best creation of God but AI is developed by humans; therefore, AI cannot be treated as an option for humans' alternatives. But he opinioned that humans can use AI as a supporting tool only and not beyond.
